LOVE IS A WONDERFUL FEELING ORIGINATED FROM THE EMOTION.

As we know that in this entire world one thing is very common that is love because without it we 'being human beings' cannot live in this society. Now, Shakespeare said that love is the food of sensitive mind, it is also fact that each and every living creature of this universe has a mind and mind needs a type of love to live. I can say that love is introduced in different forms by us in this colourful world like love of mother, love of father, love of sister, love brother, love of society, love of relative, love of teacher and love of life are needed to the mind of living creatures. Every love has different aspects and different way of understanding. I have also gone through a number of plays written by William Shakespeare like King Lear, Twelfth Night, The Tempest in which vast example of love could be seen clearly and apart from 37 plays of William Shakespeare, vast examples and distinctions of love could be seen in his sonnets. Shakespeare's sonnets and long narrative poems like Venus and Adonis, A Lover's Complaint and some others are totally based on the concept of love, sex, time, death, revenge and avenge. I am going to introduce love and reaction of love from Shakespeare's long narrative poem 'Venus and Adonis' in this poem adonis is a young handsome man interested in hunting nothing else. His desire and determination are very strong not easy to move but Venus is the most beautiful girl the Goddess of love and she is interested to track that young man anyhow. She wants to fulfill sexual desire with him but he is not interested at all. She tries to cross all limitations of her life to fulfill sexual need from him. She appears suddenly in this way to impress and follow him whole day on his hunting for making her dream true. She could not reach at her final destination then what happens as a result that young handsome man is killed in this Woods. His blood is scattered there under the eyes surveillance of hers, so frequently I can say that death is the result of sexual frustration and death is the revenge of sexual frustration. On another way, we can also introduce, it is same through Christopher marlowe's poem 'Hero and Leander' everyone knows him before Shakespeare he had written world famous poetry on tragic importance and some narrative poems based on love. First of all, I would like to draw your kind attention for Dr. Faustus. It is his best explained drama in which we can see the death of doctor faustus because of sexual need. He is the most powerful mind but he gets death when it loses the power he starts his power for satisfying physical need. His another work Hero and Leander in this poem Leander is the most handsome man with unbeatable force. He has attractive face and tight physic to impress anyone easily. Hero, she is also so beautiful girl with pure virginity, the daughter of Venus, Leander conquers Pure Love after facing unbearable pain. This poem is also cleared example of sexual Revenge or sexual frustration. So, we should be agree with this point of life after going through the works of Shakespeare and Christopher Marlowe but instead of these poets, also many poets have the same concepts to introduce that” Death is the Revenge of sexual Frustration” In Doctor Faustus, he cries “make me Immortal with a kiss” because he seeks heavenly grace in Helen's lips . it is also very clear that he wants only fulfillment of sexual Desire. He misused his power and he hugged untimely death for sexual desire or sexual love. At last , my observation after travelling entire 30 years of life span in that death is not the final destination of love and sexual frustration but death is the final destination of love of people. Another vital example of this in our society too. There was a king of Kings in our hometown who had everything during that time but he was also of great victim of the organic frustration. He got more than hundred unsatisfactory marriages but could not fulfill the sexual desire totally and he was died by the most beautiful woman because of that frustration. So death is the Revenge of organic un-fulfillment in this ocean of love and affection or lust enormously.

CONCLUSION:-

It's true in my area of knowledge after deep observation through the works of excellent dramatists like William Shakespeare and Christopher marlowe, miapart from that, I have given an example of the Maharaja of Darbhanga. I got the same result of un-fulfillment of sexual desire. Shakespeare also said that Love is a natural force so who am I to control that natural force. If someone tries to control it then who huges untimely death because this is the Revenge Of Love, Sex, lust, affection and frustration through Hero and Leander, Venus and Adonis, Dr. faustus, Edward II, Lover's Complaint and a number of Sonnets written by William Shakespeare and Christopher Marlowe.
